Thought - "Contact at Christmas"

It is at this time of year I wish I had been more organised last year – and kept a Christmas card list. Because, at Christmas I do like to keep in touch – to make contact with people I may not have seen much during the year. And I also like the closer contact we sometimes get at Christmas when we can spend time with people we care about.

But then – making contact is what Christmas has always been about. The first Christmas was about God making contact – with us – with people he cares about. God had made contact before, of course – he has always been in touch, but that first Christmas was not just a card or a letter. It was a much closer, more personal contact – He had a son. God made contact with us through his own baby son. His son, born to a young Jewish mother, born into a poor family, in an occupied country, who lived with ordinary people – people God cares about and wanted to make contact with – people like you and me.

Christmas card contact is good, but it is not the same as spending time with a friend. God sent his son because he doesn't want his contact with us to be distant – not just a card once a year contact. The Creator of the Universe wants a closer contact with us – the contact of spending time with a close friend who knows you, and you can trust.

The message of Christmas is that God has come close to us through his son, and he invites us to come close to him – to spend time getting to know better the one who made us and loves us.
